

Executive Biography

Steve Butler, Senior Vice President, Business Development

Steve Butler is the vice president of Business Development for QuestSoft's ComplianceEAGLE system, an end-to-end, fully automated compliance review solution for mortgage lenders. Butler is a financial industry veteran with more than 30 years of mortgage and financial services industry expertise, including more than 25 years in leading roles with financial institutions.

Prior to joining QuestSoft, Butler served as president and CEO of Idaho Falls, Idaho-based Solex, an online lending solution for the RV and marine industries. He also served as national markets consultant of mortgage/technology solutions for Minneapolis-based Wolters Kluwer Financial Services, and executive vice president of Ann Arbor, Mich.-based Entyre, Inc, where he helped steer the company through a profitable sale to Wolters Kluwer.

Additionally, Butler served as the vice president of National Sales at DocuTech, a compliance services and documentation technology company for the mortgage industry in Idaho Falls, Idaho. Butler also was assistant vice president of Branch Operations for Security Pacific Financial Services for seven years.

Topics of Expertise

- Executive Management
- Sales Management
- Mortgage Lending
- Product Management